

SAVE EASTER ISLAND & CONTRIBUTE TO A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE SPONSOR A TUMBLEWEED COMPOSTING BIN FOR EASTER ISLAND

Each 1 kg of composted waste saves 1 kg of greenhouse gas emissions!

Easter Island is one of the most unique yet remote islands of the Pacific Ocean, representing the most extreme example of forest destruction in the world. Famed for its gigantic collection of Moai statues, the island is now an ecological wasteland, its resource base having been destroyed by humans. It now faces the dual threat of desertification and contamination of its water supply due to landfill wastes.

International Help Fund Australia is an Australian-based non-governmental organisation, focusing on assisting our Pacific neighbours to find practical solutions to these catastrophic environmental issues. One of these solutions is composting. Composting not only diverts organic wastes from landfill which threatens the Island's water supply, but also provides enriched soils for subsistence farmers to grow healthy food for their families.

Our goal is to provide a composting bin to each of Easter Island's 1200 households in order to assist local efforts to clear the contaminated water supply and reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Tumbleweed bins – which are rust, rat and dog proof and are 100% recyclable at the end of their life – provide the perfect solution. Tumbleweed is also providing 1 free bin for every 10 sponsored!

We need your help to make a difference on this beautiful, environmentally damaged island.
All it takes is a $150 one off payment or $15 paid monthly for ten months.
